Ramalingiah, minor by mother and guardian Rangamma) Counter-petitioner

In reply to the application of the Petitioner for a Succession Certificate, the Counter-petitioner begs to state as follows : -

I. Nanjundiah the late husband of the petitioner was undivided with the counter-petitioner and was not divided from him in respect of any of the ancestral or family property.

II. The money due under the Policy referred to in the Schedule attached to the application is a part of the undivided property that belonged to the two brothers and their father, and it was not Nanjundayya's self acquired property. The premiums were paid from the joint family property.

III. On the death of Nanjundayya the whole of the family property including the money secured by the Policy in question devolved upon the counter-petitioner by rule of survivorship according to Hindu Law.

IV. The petitioner is only entitled to her maintenance.

V. Therefore the petitioner as the widow of an undivided member of an undivided Hindu family is not entitled to the money due under the Policy but the counter-petitioner as the said survivor is entitled to the said money and to apply for a certificate to collect the same.

VI. The counter-petitioner prays that the application of the petitioner may be dismissed and a certificate issued in the name of the counter-petitioner with his mother as his guardian or next friend. The counter-petitioner is willing to pay the Court Fee due on the certificate and if necessary to give security also.

VII. If however the Court decides to issue a certificate to the petitioner the counter-petitioner prays that proper security may be taken from her.
